Former Kentucky Governor Is Named Undersecretary Of Labor

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 .- (INS) -President Truman on Thursday appointed Keen Johnson, former governor of Kentucky, as under-

The post to be filled by Johnson was created by legislation enacted by congress last spring. The measure provided for three assistant secretaries, already appointed, and the undersecretary who will serve as the chief administrative officer of the department.

Appointment of Johnson-a neutral-is expected to quiet some of the criticism leveled at the department of labor recently by the AFL. The federation charged that the department of labor was pro-CIO. since John W. Gibson, assistant secretary and former Michigan CIO official, has been handling administrative affairs.

Report 85 Now In Attendance At Jeweler's School In Old Aiken Building

Old Aiken school, on Pearson street, where this reporter went when he was a lad and where many of the oldsters of the city attended. perhaps not as Aiken, but Central school, is once more a real beehive of activity. The old building, abandoned some years ago by the school board, has been taken over by the Jewelers Training school, a local organization for the purpose of training former GIs in the art of jewelry manufacturing.

Starting out with an initial enrollment of 58 students the early part of June, the second class of 27 students began their studies on Wednesday, making a total enrollment of 85 students, 90 per cent of whom are former GIs.

A visit to the school on Wednesday afternoon proved that the idea of Paul J. Cubbison, originator of Massachusetts 14th congressional the school, was feasible, and action has been taken originating a training institution in the city, the first of its kind in the entire nation.

The majority of the 85 students have been drawn from a 35-mile radius of this city, although Hanover and Reading, Pa., are represented in the present enrollment. Applications for the fall term. which will begin in September, have been received from students in South Dakota, Colorado and Ken-

Work at present is being started on the creation of week-end, you'll recall, and there an engraving room. A cafeteria and In September, the school's enrollment will jump to 150.

Largest Inland Vessel Launching Scheduled Aug. 10

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 3 .- (INS) -The Dravo corporation today announced that the largest vessel ever to be launched on the inland rivers will slide off the ways at the company's Neville Island shipyards Aug. 10 in Pittsburgh. The Ard 33, a self contained open-ended floating dry dock, is 448 feet long and 97 feet wide. Designed by the navy bureau of yards and docks for the bureau of ships, the Ard 33 is capable of handling most of the auxiliary and tender-type ships. It has a lifting capacity of 6,000 tons. Mrs. Ben Moreell, of Washington, D. C., wife of Admiral Moreell, will christen the vessel.

In order to launch the huge floating dry dock army engineers excavated a hole 500 feet long and 150 wide in the Ohio river to provide the necessary space.

Three Officers Polio Victims On Irip From Japan

TOKYO. Aug. 2. - (INS) - Three U. S. army officers homeward bound from Japan were stricken with infantile paralysis today and one of the victims was placed in an iron lung.

The outbreak of the dread disease delayed the sailing of the transport Marine Panther to the United States. Most of the passengers aboard the transport are the 2,250 Philippine troops enroute to their homes.

Placed in the iron lung was Capt. Roy N. House, of Mansfield, Ill. Less seriously stricken were Lt. Henry I. Meyers, of Chicago, and Donald M. Borth, of Staten Island.

The Marine Panther resumed its voyage to the United States following removal of the three officers.

Claims Enemy May Bomb Navy; Pass Up Cities

Admiral Blandy Says A. Bomb Attack May Be Directed Against Naval Forces First

By FRANK B. ALLEN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD THE MT. MCKINLEY Bikini Lagoon, Aug. 2.--Vice-Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, operations cross roads commander, declared in statement today that the atom bomb may be used by the enemy agains a navy instead of cities if seapower were "biting him hardest'

He also indicated that larger numbers of naval bases may be desirable in the future so as to disperse ships and make them less vulnerable to an A-bomb attack.

Admiral Blandy said that while It is still too early to draw final conclusions from the two atomic tests on naval warfare, the type of lessons to be learned can now be outlined.

These lessons snow that in both redesign and dispersal there "must always be a compromise between passive protection and offensive strength." He added: "We may not always be able to afford such a wide dispersal as the atom bombs might dictate.

"So, the extent to which needed improvements in naval design, tactics and strategic disposition of ships can be afforded, without too great a sacrifice in other desirable features, will call for the finest judgment.

May Prefer Naval Target

Blandy declared there may be situation in which the enemy would choose to use the A-bomb against a navy rather than cities. He said: "It depends upon which was biting him the harder; in some cases it might be the fleet. I think in the last war if Japan had been given a choice of knocking out Chicago or our navy, Chicago might have taken second place.

Blandy said he had heard "that in the next war navies will be strictly 'past tense'"; that wars will be won entirely by air. He then com-

He stated that atomic energy in naval warfare has two possible uses -in power plants and in weapons. He concurred in the prediction of Vice-Adm. Edward Cochrane, chief of the naval bureau of ships, that nuclear-powered ships will be coming in five to ten years.

They will, however, "be realized in the 1950's, rather than the '40's, and probably much later for air-

Rice And Dusak Spark Cardinals In 3 To 1 Game

Pete Reiser Suffers Mild Brain Concussion By Crashing Into

By LES CONKLIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 .- No matter how many stars the St. Louis Cardinals sell down the river, they have the happy faculty of coming up with replacements who not only are adequate, but actually are keeping the Red Birds in the thick of the National league pennant race.

Six months ago, outfielder Erv Dusak and catcher Del Rice snaped up as relatively minor cogs in the St. Louis machine. Now Dusak has become a star, and Rice will make the Mound City fans forget the sale of Walker Cooper to the Giants if he breaks up many more crucial ball games with long hits.

ALLIS HEARING TO HEAR UNION PRESIDENT TODAY

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 2.—(INS)-President D. F. Dornetto of the United Electrical Workers Union was scheduled to take the witness stand in Pittsburgh again todaythe 15th day-against the Allis-Chalmers manufacturing company which is charged by the union with unfair labor practices.

During yesterday's hearing Seymour Linfield, assistant general counsel for the UE, said that the company was still violating the Wagner act by refusing to negotiate a new contract while the hearing is in progress.

Dornetto is expected to continue, under cross-examination, to tell how the A-C workers' council was formed by seven CIO local unions.

Research Shows What People Read CLAVELL

Human Interest Stories Still Have Most Appeal To Newspaper Readers

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 .- (INS)-The good old human interest story, especially about folks you know, still is page-one news to the average

That's the verdict of the advertising research foundation in their continuing study of what people read and why

Folks in New Bedford, Mass., for instance, the survey says, picked up their copy of the Standard-Times on May 16th and what did they read

The Banner-headlined story about the impending railroad strike that could have hobbled the nation? Nope! They devoured each bridal detail about a local nurse who was getting married and an eye-witness story about the sinking of a fishing craft.

The women read the wedding story, and the men read about the sunken fishing craft.

The lead story about the strike, heralded with a banner headline clear across the front page, ranked fourth in male interest and seventh with the housewife.

But the little woman's no dope. While she reads the comics as soon as she finished the front page, she also reads the financial news almost as closely as does her husband. The score stands 36 percent for women to 41 percent for men.

And a local high school baseball yarn ranked second only to a wire service story about the Boston Red
